For the youngest Carson brother, finding—and fixing—trouble seems to be all in a day's work

Mace Carson doesn't consider himself a hero. Back in college, he came upon a woman in trouble and intervened—but he was just one irate Wyoming cowboy with his boots planted firmly on the side of right. Now a successful vintner, Mace is shocked to be reunited with the woman he saved. But it turns out she's in Wyoming on business...a corporate executive representing the company that wants to buy his winery. Only, he's not selling.

Kelly Wright has never forgotten that horrible night ten years ago when Mace came to her rescue, has never forgotten him. The surprising success of a winery in the middle of ranch country has brought her to Mustang Creek, and she's secretly thrilled to discover Mace at the helm. Reluctant to mix business with pleasure, Kelly vows to keep things professional, until her attacker is released from prison and comes for vengeance...against both of them.

Disappointed end to a series

By S. Foltin

Normally I love LLM books and was happy that this one came out so soon after Slater's story. Unfortunately, this was a slow and boring read. I just don't see these characters coming together beyond any ties other than great sex. I really hate when there is an exchange of dialog leaving one of the characters "in tears" and leaves me like, that wasn't that funny. I only finished it to complete the series. I was disappointed that for all those pages there wasn't more depth into the characters, wasted opportunities to bring some drama in with the ex or even over a longer period of time (the bulk of the book takes place in the course of one week).

Very disappointing

By Amazon Customer

This book started out good but lost momentum quickly and became a very slow read. The characters of Mace and Kelly just didn't blend.

Mace is a cowboy / wine maker. Kelly is a straight, one track, career minded city girl. You don't expect Mace to use words like dynamic or succumbed but he does in this book . This story is truly a work of this authors imagination.

3.5 Stars, light romance

By Bookzilla

3.5 Stars, light romance. Stand-alone that is easy to follow. Storyline that floats along the surface, no deep developments.

It does not make any sense that the ranch would not have security measures.

Believable characters and dialogue.

When they were younger, they'd tangled often, gone beyond heated words to flying fists, as fierce as three junkyard dogs after the same bone. And even then, if challenged by an outsider, they would've stood back-to-back, bloody-knuckled and fiery-eyed, and fought as long and as hard as they had to, not for themselves, but for each other.

“And speaking as one workaholic to another, remember that life is short, and it won't be what you did that causes you regret, when your time comes. It'll be what you intended to do and didn't.”

..."What I'm trying to say is, if there's a problem, men go ahead and try to solve it right away. A woman will consider why it happened in the first place, what it means.'

No desire to re-read this story. It did not hold my interest as her other works have.

Remember this is my personal opinion and does not reflect on the author.
