NICOLAS MEDTNER: HIS LIFE AND MUSIC BY BARRIE MARTYN PDF

Nicholas Medtner (1880-1951) has always been a neglected figure in the history of Russian music, and yet his friend Rachmaninoff considered him the greatest of contemporary composers. He wrote three fine piano concertos, more than one hundred solo piano compositions, including a cycle of fourteen sonatas fully worthy to be set alongside those of Scriabin and Prokofiev, and many beautiful songs. He was also a great pianist. Leaving Russia after the Bolshevik Revolution, Medtner lived for a time in Germany and France before finally settling in London, where he passed the final sixteen years of his life. The present work is the first to tell the full story of his eventful life and to consider in turn each of his compositions. The author has drawn on Medtner's own correspondence and writings and collected the reminiscences of those who knew him personally to build a comprehensive picture of a great, if still largely unrecognised, musician.

The basic book on Nicolas Medtner

By E. S. Schwartzreich

There has been a mini renaissance of the works of Medtner in the last 20 years. One can now actually find recordings of all of this master's piano music (most in multiple recordings), his chamber works, and his three piano concerti. Medtner's songs are less-well represented, and cry out for a definitive recording (a recent CD of a handful of songs with singers Vassily Savenko and Iana Ivanilova, and pianist Boris Berezovsky is so wonderful that I nominate them to record every song.) All of Medtner's scores are now fairly easily available as well.

Barrie Martyn's book on Medtner, while pricey, is still in print. It is the basic text in English on the composer. The many musical examples in the text call out for foreknowledge of the music, or CD's ready at hand to illustrate Martyn's points. The biographical details are many and fascinating.

Recommended to all lovers of this composer.
