Great format for young readers

By C. Gafton

Great book format for kids who just start to read on their own. I like very much the format of a few lines a text and a full picture page, because kids make use of all the information they see to try to make out the words or follow the story. At around 40 pages this books is perfectly sized to hold the attention and reward the read session of a Level 1/2 new reader. I love the format and the size - perfect for small hands.
